

Hi Bill,

Nov 1st

Oh my goodness! I have decided to re-arrange my room a little bit. Also to get rid of stuff I don't use or don't want. We'll see how it goes.

Then as I was going, I also realized that I might need to spend a little bit of money oh well. I think it will be worth it. My room looks even messier now!

Cleaning is coming along. Room looks cleaner. I got a new book shelf and took out the TV and it's stand. I moved the shelf under my bed to the other side of my room. My floor is still messy but it's getting there. I got some baskets that fit in the shelf square holes. One shelf I will move under my bed, but my desk is staying where it is. There is a picture on FB in a comment on a post mom posted on my wall of how my room looked. It's much better now. I still need to find a shoe rack cause I have no where for my shoes. But I have an idea of where to put them
