

Hi Bill,

October 4th

This is my September letter. This month has been really tough. Moving and living alone in this quiet suite, is SO much different from my loud house. And I don't have my cats here either.

I find adjusting to school has been fine, though there is a lot of homework and papers to write, I should be okay. The fact that I have no school Friday and on the weekends really help with getting my homework done and being organised. And I love that I have a job that is only once a week because it's good pay (45$ for three hours) and so now I can buy groceries or indulge myself in a treat, but I really like the kids and my co-worker. We'll see how the rest of the year plays out!

love ~~to~~ to

😊 Samantha ♡