

Hi Bill.

July 11th

This is my way late June letter. I also forgot to bring letter writing supplies.

I had meant to bring some that Charlie and Chloe made me but it slipped my mind. Oh well

June came super fast for me. Leading up to it, I was like "oh yeah, I have so much time for everything". Then June came and I had two calendars with absolutely everything on them (including grocery shops, laundry, everything).

The weeks leading up to Mathew's surprise party was the worst. I was trying to fit so many people in, and appointments, and time with Mathew. And Alex was here and I had to make time for her too.

Then came Mathew's party. We couldn't have it till 7pm because people worked. But Matthew Kept trying to come over early. I Kept telling him no. Since he also wasn't working with any of my plan A, Bs or Cs.

He was surprised, but angry when he arrived because I had been so rude. He got over it pretty quickly.

The week after his party was mostly packing and cleaning. Hopefully the suite is up to Fran's standard. Though it probably won't be cause when it is ever.

Love
