

Hi Bill.

November 27th

Today, I got in the mail the two post-cards that you sent at the beginning of November. Guess the Canada postal service is a bit slow.

My time here is dwindling. I have about 20 days left.

Only two more schedule drops.

I have a staycation planned with a couple of my friends. We will be staying at the Art of Animation Resort.

I've been working a bunch lately.

And I still haven't seen a headless character. I'm still trying to thought.

It's been getting colder here at nights. Today, it was the same temperature in Orlando as in Vancouver.

I know this letter is very rambling, but I haven't done a whole bunch lately.

A lot of the same stuff. Working at Font, night shifts, which suck.

I have to watch Happily Ever After at least once more before I leave.

I'm sad that I work night so I can't see all that stuff.

Love

Jim
