

Hi Bill

I pulled my typewriter back out. The ribbon is pretty dry. I am also pretty out of practice. Let's see how well this goes. I am not going to pull out a new paper every time something doesn't work. For some reason my apostrophe isn't going right. Wait, it's because it's at the 8.

I have been so busy lately. I have three classes this semester and I work 35 hours a week. So I could say I am pretty occupied lately. I guess my letters aren't always coming through.

I am not sure what month I am at at this point. The one I sent with the stamp was either an August or a September letter. I wanted to see if it would make it to you after Lisa and mom told me about the trick.

I am planning an event with school as part of a project. It's a pub night fundraiser for camp spirit. It will be on Nov 23 at the Twisted Taphouse. There is a group of 4 of us working on it. We have gotten sponsors from stores in the community so hopefully all will go well. With that class we also have to write like 85-100 words on various aspects of event planning. So far, since the class has started, I have written 1. Wow, go me.

I'm also still doing my Girl Guides Monday nights which keep me busy, as well as my youth group Wednesdays. Tomorrow though we are headed to Stanley Park to ride the ghost train. We have 15 kids coming! The long weekend of November it is our big youth event in Chilliwack. There are about 120 youth and young adults registered so far. I hate that it is so busy with school and this big event. But I knew what I signed up for when I decided to take 3 classes while working full-time. After the event I have about 3 days off which will be nice. I also recently had my accounting midterm * I have a tutor once a week* and I got 85%. I can't believe I did that well. Fran, you are correct in that I got a car. It was 880$ from Sue, and it's while I wait for my electric car, which I am on the waitlist for. I do have the garage, but am waiting for the openers to be fixed. At the moment I have an app on my phone that will open the garage door.

Honestly, that's all that is really going on in my life. I have been so busy recently that I haven't done much. Well except for watch the cousins for the weekend. That was good, but boy are kids rude to eachother. I bet me and my brothers were NEVER like that. Ever. We must have been angeles. Well anyways, I think I did okay in terms of writing. It looks like my ink is getting a bit better. I shuld probably go to bed as it's 11 PM on a Monday and I have to be at work tomorrow. Hopefully I will get to write you again soon when I have time. The whole Fam is coming to Van to watch Luzia in November.

Also, of course Thomas can stay here. I helped him register for school. I will get him all set up in the guest room. It should be fun being able toncook for two people again.

Sorry the first part of this letter was janky. Hopefully you can still figur out what I meant.

Love,
Samantha
